said that French businessmen act "as if they did not know that one can also buy, not only sell." Fock conceded that expanding cooperation in the economic field "will not be easy." COMMENT: Fock's delegation is heavily seeded with experts in non-economic fields and they will probably arrange some cultural or scientific-technical cooperation agreements. Fock's speech suggests, however, that the Hungarians will once more be frustrated in their attempts to turn increased French-Hungarian cooperation into economic gains.	25X1
British Foreign Minister to Visit Eastern Europe Michael Stewart, the new British Foreign Minister, will visit Hungary in late summer or early autumn. Stewart will also visit Rumania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia. COMMENT: Hungarian Foreign Minister Peter's 1965 visit to London was the latest meeting between foreign ministers from Britain and Hungary. The British Embassy in Budapest has been negotiating a consular agreement which may be ready for signing by the time Stewart arrives.	25X1 25X1
Yugoslavia is starting to export a water said to increase sexual potency in males. According to the newspaper Vercernic Novosti, 23,000 gallons from a Bosnian spring have been sent to Nuernberg, Germany for sale by an organization called the Association for Rejuvenation. No medical evidence is available yet to substantiate the water's reported powers, but since the Yugoslavs first began publishing reports last fall about the water which comes from the town of Kladanj, visitors have flocked to the area. One official even reported receiving letters from women who said the water saved their marriages. NOTE: THE VIEWS EXPRESSED ABOVE REPRESENT ONLY THE ANALYSIS OF THE EE DIVISION	25X1
